

BAUMHART SCHOLARS MBA (SOCIAL IMPACT MBA)

Baumhart Scholars MBA

We prepare leaders from the private, government, and social sectors to thrive at the intersection of profit and purpose.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

Baumhart Scholars is a highly selective, cohort-based MBA within Loyola's Quinlan School of Business for working professionals who seek to drive their careers and their social impact forward simultaneously. Scholars benefit from:

- Impact-driven curriculum: Scholars go through the MBA together, learning specialized leadership and impact skills alongside the fundamentals of business.
- Individualized mentorship: Scholars meet with professional mentors at the forefront of integrating business strategy and social purpose.
- Exceptional networks: Scholars get special access to Baumhart's leadership networks of higher ambition executives who are marrying profit and purpose.
- International recognition: Scholars receive their MBA from Quinlan, which has been recognized by the Financial Times as an international leader in sustainability, ethics, and social purpose in business education.
- Scholarship support: Scholars receive a $20,000 scholarship to celebrate their commitment to harness the power of their MBAs to advance the greater good.

Curriculum

Business Strategy + Social Purpose

Our 16-course, cohort-based approach to the MBA curriculum is designed to provide a solid foundation in all business disciplines, develop leadership skills, and deeply explore purpose in business.

The Baumhart Scholars curriculum has three parts:

- Foundational courses in business fundamentals, which prepare you to be a data-driven business leader with the ability to think critically and communicate effectively.
- Specialty courses in corporate social responsibility, social enterprise, impact investing, ESG, and values-based leadership, which equip you with the tools to marry profit and purpose.
- Elective courses in a wide array of disciplines, which enable you to dig deeper in areas that meet your individual learning goals.

Total Hours 48

Note: ISSCM 400N Quantitative Methods I and ISSCM 402N Quantitative Methods II - Statistics Primer may also be required, depending on a student's undergraduate record.

Elective Courses

Through your three electives, you can customize your education to your personal career path and interests.

Elective courses can be taken within the Quinlan School of Business or from across Loyola colleges and schools (for example, School of Social Work (<https://www.luc.edu/socialwork/academics/graduate/graduate-courses/>) or School of Environmental Sustainability (<https://www.luc.edu/sustainability/academics/graduatedegreeprograms/>)) for flexibility and customization.

You can choose to have a concentration by taking all three elective courses in the same discipline. You can also use your electives to work toward a Graduate Certificate, such as the Environmental, Social, and Governance Certificate (<https://gpem.luc.edu/portal/program/?name=environmentalsocialandgovernancecertificate>).

Suggested Sequence of Courses

Due to the specialized nature of this curriculum, the majority of courses are taken in a set schedule determined by the program. Scholars are encouraged to meet with their advisor each quarter to discuss their schedule and determine the best time to take electives. Courses typically take place during weekday evenings and occasional weekends. In addition to this core coursework, Scholars are expected to participate in an opening immersion weekend, ongoing leadership development programming, and monthly mentorship. Here is a sample program calendar.
