Criminal Justice and Criminology

The department of Criminal Justice and Criminology offers a master’s degree that prepares students to excel in today’s evidence-based criminal justice system. A supportive environment accommodates the diversity of our students’ lives with evening classes, option of part-time or full-time status, and flexible tailoring of electives. The department is well-connected to local and federal agencies. Graduates have been placed in all areas of the criminal justice system including state and county agencies, and federal agencies such as the FBI, Secret Service, Federal Probation, Homeland Security, Federal Pretrial Services and DEA. Graduates also have been admitted into PhD programs or law schools.
