

COMMUNITY COUNSELING (MA)

The MA in Counseling Psychology prepares students to help communities living with disparities in health and well-being, especially the under-served. Loyola's program is the place for you to commit to shifting this inequitable landscape.

Curriculum

The Master of Arts in Counseling Psychology requires 48 semester hours of graduate study focused in two major areas: counseling core and a specialty area. The program includes 450 clock hours of practicum/internship experience for six semester hours of course credit. Students must also take and pass a comprehensive examination during their final semester of study.

Comprehensive Assessment

A comprehensive proctored examination is required. Please see the School of Education Academic Calendar for comprehensive exam dates.

Graduate & Professional Standards and Regulations

Students in graduate and professional programs can find their Academic Policies in Graduate and Professional Academic Standards and Regulations (<https://catalog.luc.edu/graduate-professional-academic-standards-regulations/>) under their school. Any additional University Policies supercede school policies.

Learning Outcomes

You will engage in independent scholarship on questions important to counseling psychology, and develop and evaluate interventions to promote positive human development. You'll be equipped to pursue doctoral study and will graduate with competencies in research, ethical and legal standards, individual and cultural diversity, professional values and attitudes, communication and interpersonal skills, assessment, and clinical interventions.
