

ANTHROPOLOGY (BA)

To obtain the BA degree in Anthropology and prepare for a chosen field, students must complete the major requirements, round out their education by learning important skills and values through Loyola's Core Curriculum (<https://catalog.luc.edu/undergraduate/university-requirements/university-core/>) and develop their own special interests by taking general electives.

² Can be outside Anthropology with approval from the Undergraduate Program Director.

ANTH 396, ANTH 397, ANTH 398, and ANTH 399 may be taken more than once, but ONLY ONE may count towards the major.

There are no restrictions on course double-dipping for major and minor programs in Anthropology. However, students may only earn a degree in Anthropology BA or Anthropology BS.

Suggested Sequence of Courses

Students can begin the Anthropology (BA) degree at any point in their undergraduate studies, in consultation with their advisor. While there is no set sequence of classes, students are encouraged to take ANTH 101 Human Origins and either ANTH 100 Globalization and Local Cultures or ANTH 102 Culture, Society, and Diversity early on, since these classes are often (but not always) pre-requisites for higher level classes. Once students have declared the major, they are encouraged to contact their advisor within the Anthropology Department or the Anthropology Department's Undergraduate Program Director for further guidance on how best to progress with their studies.

Transfer-Student Residency Requirement

At least 18 credit hours courses for this degree must be completed at Loyola.

College of Arts and Sciences Graduation Requirements

All Undergraduate students in the College of Arts and Sciences are required to take two Writing Intensive courses (6 credit hours) as well as complete a foreign language requirement at 102-level or higher (3 credit hours) or a language competency test. More information can be found here (<https://www.luc.edu/cas/college-requirements/>).

Additional Undergraduate Graduation Requirements

All Undergraduate students are required to complete the University Core, at least one Engaged Learning course, and UNIV 101. SCPS students are not required to take UNIV 101. Nursing students in the Accelerated BSN program are not required to take core or UNIV 101. You can find more information in the University Requirements (<https://catalog.luc.edu/undergraduate/university-requirements/>) area.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

- Students will be able to remember the four sub-fields of anthropology (archaeology, biological, cultural, and linguistic) including their respective core concepts
- Students will apply anthropological theories and methodologies to better understand multiple forms of social difference, including race, ethnicity, class, gender and sexuality
- Students can articulate how anthropology (in the past and present) can be used to undermine or promote a more just, diverse, equitable and inclusive world
- Students will understand anthropological methods (for example quantitative or qualitative methods)
- Students will be able to discuss anthropological research and thinking with various audiences
