

APPLIED PSYCHOLOGY (BA)

Individual, organizational, and global problems require innovative solutions based on psychological research concerning what motivates people to change. Moreover, robotics and increased automation continues heightening demand for employees who are adept at systems thinking to address the complexity of human behavior.

The BA in Applied Psychology program is a differentiated, high-quality program tuned to the needs of adult learners. Expert faculty provide training in the scientific study of human behavior, emotion, cognition, and motivation and prepare students for occupations applying psychological theory and methods to promote creative, evidence-based problem solving, critical systems thinking, cultural agility, and persuasive communication.

Curriculum

The BA in Applied Psychology comprises 120 credit hours. Courses are offered in an 8 week session format with online and evening options.

Suggested Sequence of Courses

The School of Continuing and Professional Studies provides a high-touch advising model in order to incorporate the professional and educational outcomes of the student as well as any transfer credit accepted. In order to provide students with maximum flexibility in their education and because everyone's academic background will vary, advisors will work directly with students to determine an appropriate sequence of courses starting at admission into their respective program based on their needs and expected time to completion.

Additional Undergraduate Graduation Requirements

All Undergraduate students are required to complete the University Core, at least one Engaged Learning course, and UNIV 101. SCPS students are not required to take UNIV 101. Nursing students in the Accelerated BSN program are not required to take core or UNIV 101. You can find more information in the University Requirements (<https://catalog.luc.edu/undergraduate/university-requirements/>) area.

Learning Outcomes

Upon degree completion, graduates will be able to:

1. Apply scientific thinking to solve individual, interpersonal, organizational and social problems in real world case studies and organizational/community projects.
2. Analyze theories in human behavior, cognition, emotion, and motivation in written assignments and oral presentations.
3. Use strategic communication and persuasion skills based in the behavioral sciences in role plays and real-world applications.
4. Interpret statistical and evaluation data to discern meaningful patterns and assess the impact of interventions in course work and organizational/community applications.
5. Recognize best practices including ethical and pragmatic constraints of applied research with people in course work and organizational/community projects.
